Case Action No. 3:11-cv-02353-N

RIM'S NOTICE OF CORRECTION

On April 24, 2012 the parties filed their Joint Claim Construction and Prehearing Statement [Doc. No. 249]. It has recently come to RIM's attention that its proposed construction for the "means for performing . . . a pad function . . ." limitation (U.S. Patent No. 5,737,394) contains a typographical error. Specifically, the correct word "missed" was inadvertently replaced with "dismissed." Thus, the corrected proposed construction for this limitation is:

Function: performing a pad function which enables telephone numbers that have been any of dialed by an operator, received by said telephone apparatus, and missed by said operator to be reviewed.

Structure: Soft keys 20, processor 50, memory 52, display 18, scroll button 32, and software for presenting the algorithm illustrated in Figure 7 and described in cols. 11:7-12:32.

This error is also found in the claim charts in RIM's claim-construction briefing. See RIM's Claim Construction Br. [Doc. No. 276] at 41 and RIM's Reply To MMI's Opening Claim Construction Br. [Doc. No. 286] at 37.

RIM therefore respectfully requests that the Court take notice of its corrected proposed claim construction.

Respectfully submitted,

By: /s/ John R. Emerson
